West Fraser is committed to creating and maintaining a workplace that fosters mutual respect, integrity, and professional conduct.

Worker Roles & Responsibilities

Workers must conduct themselves in a manner which demonstrates professional conduct, mutual respect for others and honours diversity in the workplace.

Employees must participate fully and in good faith, in any resolution process or formal complaint and investigation process where they have been identified as having potential relevant information.

Report any incidents which may be in violation of the respectful workplace policy.

Respect the rights to personal dignity, privacy, and confidentiality pertaining to this policy.

"Safety is a core value and business priority"
